Scottish Green Party Annual Conference

FRIDAY 5th – SUNDAY 7th November 2010

EDINBURGH

Green Scotland MAKING IT HAPPEN

 scottish green party

Please return to: SGP CONFERENCE, Scottish Green Party, 20 Graham Street, Edinburgh EH6 5QR

A Unique Vision

In the next 6-9 months Greens have a unique opportunity to present a positive vision of what Scotland will look like when Green policies are put in place.

And it's not just vision. Across the country – inspiring individuals, communities and businesses are putting in place practical initiatives that help make Scotland greener and fairer. Listen to debate about Green achievements in parliaments, councils and communities; and how they can be built upon in the future.

This is the party's main event of the year and ALL members – old or new, active or simply curious – are strongly encouraged to come along. New members can go for half price!

The only future is a Green future. Join us to hear:

- Former MEP and now the UK's first ever Green MP, Caroline Lucas
- Robin Harper, with his final conference address as a MSP
- Green co-leader, Patrick Harvie
- Leading land reform campaigner, Andy Wightman

Plus, inspiring community and business consultant Alan Caldwell, Rachel Nunn of Going Carbon-Neutral Stirling, local Green councillor Alison Johnstone, and our top candidates for the Scottish Parliament elections!

Britain's first Green MP, Caroline Lucas, addresses conference on the morning of Sunday 7 November.

Discussions and Debates

As always we have a range of breakout sessions hosted by Scotland's leading campaign or representative organisations, many of whom also have information and resource stalls throughout the weekend:

- Shelter Scotland
- Electoral Commission
- Unison
- Scottish Council for Voluntary Organisations
- Amnesty
- Children in Scotland
- Oxfam
- Planning Aid Scotland
- Scottish Youth Parliament

And many many more!

A Chance to Socialise

It's the biggest Green gathering of the year, with activists and members from every corner of Scotland. We have a social event on Friday evening and a conference meal on Saturday evening followed by an event hosted by Edinburgh Green Party.

We plan trips to nearby projects and an opportunity to take part in some real live "Target to Win" campaigning in the streets nearby.

The Details

The venue is a dramatically-located conference centre, integrating a historical building which gave respite to the anti-war poets of 1914-18. It has full disabled access and facilities and is 20 minutes by public transport from Edinburgh city centre.

Registration opens at 10:00am on Saturday 6 November and conference closes on Sunday 7 November at 5pm. You can book for the full weekend or just for individual days.

Most of all – please come along.
