Terms & Conditions

As a political party we have to adhere to strict rules about donations. Because of this we need to record the names and addresses of donors. We can only accept donations over £500 per year (aggregated) from permissible sources. Individuals are permissible donors only if they are on a UK electoral register. We will return impermissible donations." We must report to the Electoral Commission all donations that exceed £7500. When we do this we must provide the Electoral Commission with the value of the donation and the name, address and other relevant details of the donor – The Electoral Commission will publish your name and the value of your donation, but NOT your address, in the register of donations.
